Project Title: Kansas City Jazz

- Color scheme and navigation working well according to what we discussed
- Could use some more helpful microinteractions/hover states to distinguish clickable action and potential cases - browse button for example.
- The front splash page feels like it shouldn't need to be scrolled, especially for a page that only opens up to the timeline, so have it be a fixed height.
- The timeline on the contrary works very well with the scrolling, i think it fits the prompt very well.
- One thing to note is that the navigation should have a background color that covers the text that scrolls by. On the timeline for example, when you are scrolling, the text on the timeline and the text in the navigation overlap.
- Design wise, on some of the main pages like Key Figures and Timeline, the header text feels a bit big, as it covers up the entire page mostly.
- I love the map feature, really highlight it! I think it is perfect for the prompt.
- Overall, great job!
